Heavy Death Toll As German Bombers Hit London Shelters

BULLETIN
(International News Service)

LONDON, Oct. 16—With hundreds feared dead or injured after one of the most terrific night aerial attacks yet experienced, London today nursed its wounds and prepared with grim determination to meet renewed onslaughts from Germany's air force.

It was a night of horror for London's teeming millions.

Roaring over the capital in constant relays—at one time at the rate of one machine a minute—German bombers rained down tons of high explosives and incendiary bombs.

By CHARLES A. SMITH

LONDON, Oct. 16. — A heavy death toll in London appeared inevitable today with revelation that two heavy bombs completely demolished a London school used as an air raid shelter during last night's stunning Nazi raid on the capital.

This morning, hours after the all-night attack had ended, rescue squads were digging feverishly in the ruins of the two-story school structure from which many bodies had been removed.

Shelter Is Hit

Still more casualties were feared as the result of a direct bomb hit on an underground public shelter in the London area, accommodating a large number of persons. Rescuers were digging in the wreckage for victims.

The Nazi night raid was the near-

The president made his nation-wide broadcast at 8 a. m. An hour earlier, the country men of draft age (21 to 36) began to pour out of their homes to register at 125,000 booths throughout the country. The registration places were to remain open until every man standing in line at 9 p. m. tonight is signed up.

With the exception of a few scattered local showers over the middle Atlantic states, fair weather thruout the nation was reported for the registration.

Dual Theme

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Great Britain is spending the tremendous sum of 7,500,000 pounds (approximately $30,000,000) daily on its fighting services, Sir Kingsley Wood, chancellor of the exchequer, told the house of commons today.

Votes Twice For Roosevelt, But Not Third Time

Former New Dealer Convinced Roosevelt Is Leading Nation Into War

(International News Service)

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 16.—Expressing his conviction that President Roosevelt, if re-elected, "will have us in a war within two to six months," Board Chairman Gen. Robert E. Wood of Sears Roebuck & Co., today announced his support of Wendell L. Willkie.

General Wood, who has been closely identified in the past with New Deal councils, said he had voted twice for Mr. Roosevelt, "the first time with enthusiasm and the second with uncertainty." He added:

"Certainly I was for much of the New Deal. The first two times I was for Roosevelt, but not the third.

"Why? I am opposed to the third term and perpetuation in office and am of the opinion if the president is re-elected he will have us in a war within two to six months."

Willkie Assails Scarcity Theory Of New Dealers

Asserts Nearly Eight Years Of Planned Scarcity Show Fallacy Of Plan

DEMANDS ROOSEVELT REVEAL HIS POLICY

Says President Seeks Third Term Without Defining Program To People

By WALTER KIERNAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD WILLKIE TRAIN, Enroute Cincinnati, Oct. 16. — Production, more production and "constant attention to refinement of the machinery of distribution" will solve the problems of labor, industry and agriculture in America, Wendell Willkie, Republican presidential candidate, asserted in a speech prepared for delivery at Ohio points today.

Assails Theory Of Scarcity

"For nearly eight years we have been taught by the New Deal that by making things scarce we could bring the more abundant life," he said. "The farmer knows after eight years experience that this economy of scarcity contributes nothing to his standard of living. The tragic fallacy of that New Deal economy is that scarcity is maintained in the midst of potential abundance."

Launched on his favorite theory, the candidate hammered away as he has numberless times before on the point that the current administration neither understands nor is interested in production.

To that argument which is a part of his anti-third term offense Willkie added an even more serious assertion in his speech to a Buffalo, N. Y., audience of 20,000 last night.

City And County Registration For Draft Progresses

Large Numbers Of Young Men Are Enrolled For Draft During Morning

POLLS WILL CLOSE AT NINE TONIGHT

Registration Cards Will Be Turned Over To Four Local Draft Boards

Lawrence County men between the ages of 21 and 36 years lost little time getting to the registry polls today to register for the selective draft.

At 7 o'clock the rush started in city and county and by 11 o'clock most of the registry boards had men waiting in line.

A check of the precinct polling places revealed little trouble. The forms were easily understood and the registrars soon got into the work of filling out the cards.

Close At 9 O'Clock

The polls close tonight at 9 o'clock and immediately after the last man has been registered the registrars are to return all cards to the county commissioners who will be on duty in the court house.

The commissioners will then turn the cards over to the draft boards who will probably be organized by Thursday afternoon. No estimate of the registration in Lawrence County is accurate but a number of guesses have been hazarded, running from 10,000 to 15,000.

Nearly 1000 Planes In London Attack

Berlin Report Tells Of Raids

Attacks Continue In Daylight After Night-Long Pounding Of City

CLAIM AIRPORT BADLY DAMAGED

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Oct. 16.—Strong German bomber units have been attacking London and other sections of England incessantly since dawn, an official German announcement said today.

During the night, it was added, German raiders concentrated heavy attacks upon Silverden, opposite Woolwich, and also upon an airport near the Thames estuary.

The airport was severely damaged by a bomb of the heaviest calibre, the statement said.

Claim Victories

Two German aces, Major Galland and Major Moelders, leading squadrons of pursuit planes which accompanied the bombers, scored a number of fresh victories, it was claimed.

Simultaneously it was announced that British planes which attempted to attack Berlin during the night were repulsed by anti-aircraft fire before reaching their objective.

Explaining an air raid alarm which sounded in the capital shortly after midnight, the statement said:

"Several British planes last night penetrated Brandenburg county and attempted to reach Berlin but were turned back by ground fire. The air alarm was given in Berlin merely as a precaution."

Another official announcement said nearly 1,000 German planes participated in terrific raids during the night on London.

nouncement. A majority of these points are in industrial northwestern Germany.

Industrial Targets

In addition, it was stated, a number of industrial targets, munitions factories, and power stations were raided by other R. A. F. formations, "which, owing to bad weather, did not reach their primary objectives."

Attacks on channel ports and big gun emplacements on Cape Gris Nez, France, continued, said the ministry.

Boulogne was so heavily raked with high explosives and incendiary bombs that the ground shook along the Kentish coast on the English side of the channel and watchers saw huge flashes along miles of the French coast.

Attesting to the power of the attack, parachute flares and anti-aircraft fire lighted the sky along great stretches of the coastline.

Other British craft attacked naval dockyards in northern Germany as well as communication lines over a widespread area, according to an official announcement.

PRESIDENT DECLARES AMERICA IS ARMING IN CAUSE OF PEACE

hemisphere from any aggression from abroad, and, secondly, assuring the men who will be given a year's training under the draft law that conscription was a "defensive preparation only".

Obviously speaking to the world, Mr. Roosevelt stated:

"We prepare to keep the peace in this new world which free men have built for free men to live in."

Then, he pointed out that the United States has an army and national guard of "only about five hundred thousand" while "other nations smaller in population have four and five and six million trained men in their armies." He added that "our present program will train 800,000 men this coming year and somewhat less than 1,000,000 men each year thereafter".

Defensive Preparation

"It is a program obviously of defensive preparation and defensive preparation only," Mr. Roosevelt insisted.

On the dictator powers he served the following notice:

"Calmly, without fear and without hysteria, but with claer determination we are building guns and planes and tanks and ships—and all the other tools which modern defense requires. We are mobilizing our citizenship . . ."

Mr. Roosevelt said that mustering out of the nation's manpower was a 300-year-old American custom and "the first duty of free citizenship". He said conscription was forced on the nation by events abroad, adding:

"In the days when our forefathers laid the foundation of our democracy, every American family had to have its gun and know how to use it. Today we live under threats, threats of aggression from abroad, which call again for the same readiness, the same vigilance . . .

Imposed From Without

"The duty of this day has been imposed upon us from without. Those who have dared to threaten the whole world with war—those who have created the name and deed of total war—have imposed upon us and upon all free people the necessity of preparation for total defense."

Addressing himself to the men answering the conscription call, the president said:

"To the 16,000,000 young men who register today, I say that democacy is your cause—the cause of youth."

President Roosevelt declared that it was for the cause of peace that America was arming itself, concluding:

"It is to that cause—the cause of peace—that we Americans today devote our national will and our national spirit and our national strength."

est thing to a concerted mass attack London has experienced since the "air blitz" began.

Another bomb, it was disclosed, cut through a block of workmen's apartments and exploded in the basement, where residents were taking shelter. Several bodies have been recovered from these ruins and rescuers are still searching for more.

Hospitals Damaged

Two hospitals in London and a third in the suburbs also were damaged by Nazi bombs.

Altogether no less than 69 districts in and around London and in outlying sections of the country were bombed by the night raiders.

One church which suffered a direct hit was razed to the ground, masses of stone work were hurled over surrounding buildings and many of these were badly damaged.

It was believed that a considerable number of casualties occurred, at least five of which were fatal.

Bowlers are, as a rule, a calm, peaceful group; one seldom hears of heated arguments or brawls in a bowling alley.

"The first few hours of registration were marked by an almost total lack of difficulty, reports here indicate. A few last minute questions respecting various phases of registration came into headquarters by telephone but nothing serious was involved.

present fiscal year. The original credit voted the government at the beginning of the fiscal year was 700,000,000 pounds. A second supplementary credit of one billion pounds was voted last March.

Sir Kingsley said the money spent on the fighting services had nearly doubled since last March.

"This is encouraging evidence of the progress of our war effort," he added. "I hope the rate of expenditure will be even further increased."

CLAUDETTE COLBERT QUIZZES STARS ON IDEAS ABOUT DRAFT

Wayne and Band Leader Orrin Tucker, who is making his first picture—and I was impressed with how much real thought these young men have given the subject. To a man, these fellows heartily endorsed the draft.

I was on the verge of sympathizing with Bob Preston because of the fact that he is on the threshold of top flight stardom at the age of 22 years and an absence of a year might set him back in his climb, when he straightened me out with the terse statement:

Must Protect Future

"What good is the career I'm building if I don't protect it? Sure I've spent three years building a future, but if that future isn't protected what does it amount to? I'd rather take my chances on picking up the threads a year from now than leave everything that makes up my career unguarded."

Bill Holden, just as young and with just as much promise, summed it up as briefly and readily, in his own way:

"I know I'd want some training first. I'm perfectly willing to accept that training, to protect myself as well as the country. I think military training is great stuff, anyway."

Wayne Morris' Idea

Said big Wayne Morris, without hesitation:

"We ought to have had the draft for the past ten years. Arrangements should have been made for students to spend their summers during the four high school years learning drill and discipline. We'd have been better off today."

Eddie Bracken, known better on Broadway than in films and getting his biggest opportunity to date in his current film, hopes he will get a break when they draw the fateful numbers from the old fish bowl of 1917, but staunchly defends the principles behind the draft:

"If we have a trained army we are less likely to be attacked by a foreign power, and our future is safeguarded, so let's have the draft."

Concerned About Boys

Orrin Tucker had this to say:

"I'm not so concerned about myself as the boys in my band. Most of them are married and have children, and when you take my name away from them they have nothing to sell. All bands are like that—they are sold on the name of their leader. These fellows will have a hard time landing new jobs."

John Wayne was the most succinct:

"I've been a film cowboy so long that I like eating from a chuck wagon better than in a gilded cage. Let 'em roll."

No, the boys on the screen aren't kicking.

time that German troops would be sent into Rumania. The Kremlin was informed of the aims and numbers of the troops.' Tass is authorized to state that this report does not correspond with the facts.")

Authentic German quarters replied affirmatively when asked whether a phrase in the recent German communique referring to "befriended powers" included Russia.

Amid foreign reports that Russia and Turkey were considering joint defense plans, and that Germany might strike at Turkey through Bulgaria, the commercial world was surprised today by announcement of the German-Turkish trade collaboration.

DNB, the official German News agency, carried a dispatch saying a new trade agreement had been reached through which Germany and Turkey would exchange goods worth around 40,000,000 Turkish pounds (about $3,200,000 a year.)

"The third term candidate, if he is re-elected, will be in complete charge of this government of ours without ever having defined in any detail his policy, his program or his principles," he said.

Too Much Power

"Now without speaking of individuals or characteristics of any individual, that is more power than any human can possess without such power corrupting him. And it is so much power that free institutions cannot survive with such power in the hands of one man, no matter how noble his motives or how high his character."

Later he repeated: "I leave out of account entirely a particular individual but I repeat it to you—and I wish I could repeat it so many times that it will burn into the hearts and the consciences and the minds of all Americans—such power would corrupt any man and would destroy any free system of government."

To his Buffalo audience, Willkie appealed that those who do not intend to vote for him call upon the President to state his program, his principles and his policies for a third term.

Demand President's Program

"Has he or has he not any secret arrangement or pacts or agreement with any foreign powers that may involve this country in war?" he asked. "Let him tell us. Make him tell you—please make him tell you whether he intends to continue to take America down the same road of bankruptcy that we have been going down for the past seven and a half years. Say to him you seek our suffrage — we are for you but we don't want to be for you blindly. Surely we blind idolators should know what the pledges are of the idol we follow."

Today the candidate's first speech was scheduled for Mansfield. He was to speak also at Marion, Springfield, Dayton, Hamilton and finally Cincinnati, where he was due in the evening.

For nearly 100 years Jamestown, Va., was the political and economic center of colonial Virginia. In 1699 the capital was moved to Williamsburg, and in a few years Jamestown was abandoned.

DWINDLING FUEL

THAT Rumanian oil situation, now so prominently in the news, is a fulfillment of a familiar prediction made at the outset of the war and since often forgotten—that ultimately the fortunes of this war would turn on petroleum supply.

Germany has extended military control over the Rumanian oil fields, cutting off Turkey, Greece and all other consumers dependent upon those fields and making the entire output available to Germany and Italy. This Axis move is proof that the Russian Baku fields are not furnishing sufficient fuel and that no petroleum from Iraq and Iran is seeping through to Germany and Italy. Not a drop from the America is available to them.

War is so mechanized in the air, at sea and on the ground that only those in military command threatened with empty fuel tanks can comprehend fully the enormous consumption from day to day. Hitler is now discovering that keeping a tank full is a more important job in war than keeping powder dry used to be.

MONEY CIRCULATION

More money is now in circulation in the United States than ever before; that is, theoretically, for while the total sum of currency is a top record some of it is not functioning as facilely as it could be.

The new high was hung up at the end of September. Financial wizards are rather stingy with their explanations of the mounting money pile. Month-end requirements are assigned as one cause; increase use of currency instead of checks for many small bills is given as another cause.

Observing students of the situation also sense that hoarding of American currency by foreigners is playing a part. People abroad suffering from panic are apt to figure that American money, with all that gold reserve behind it, is the best bet remaining.

AIRPLANE ASSISTANCE

Should Hitler make a last desperate attempt at invasion of England next spring, time is all on the side of Britain, party because of American airplane supply which is now becoming an appreciable addition to the British fleet.

Both Britain and Germany are concentrating on plane output for replacements. Each is making more planes than America now produces for export. But at that the number of planes the United States is currently shipping to Britain, a number increased through diversion of planes built for France, is becoming a factor in the fight.

During the first five months of 1940 United States shipment of planes to Britain was approximately twenty-one a month. In June this rose to ninety-seven and in July to 173, with a jump to 278 units in August. At that rate of increase the contribution of American planes can prove to be the weight that will tip the balance in favor of Britain.

BLACKOUT FACTORIES

Manufacturers tend more and more to build factories without windows, providing all the light and ventilation by modern means that can be better controlled. Recent examples have been built by Henry Ford and General Motors and the Grumman airplane factory. Many stores and other business buildings are following the new pattern.

The original inspiration of this type of structure was scientific. Lately there is an influence of an entirely different kind tending in the same direction. It is safety in war time. The windowless and skylightless building has naturally a perpetual blackout, as far as the external world is concerned, and is therefore safer against air combing. Also safer against shattering from external explosions of any kind.

So a business writer is naturally wondering whether the present war isn't going to give a big impetus, not merely to erecting this closed type of buildings, but to walling up the windows of existing buildings and providing modern lighting facilities instead of sunlight, with the air-conditioning that naturally goes with such changes.

He even thinks we may soon be getting used to windowless residences. This might be a natural development for apartment houses, but it will probably be a long time till people are willing to live in individual homes walled up so they can't see out. And it seems unlikely that people living in the country will ever come to that.

A DATE UNMARKED BY HITLER

Hitler's failure, thus far, to get a Nazi army into England has brought the comment from London that "eight hundred and seventy-four years ago, on October 13, 1066, William of Normandy invaded and conquered Britain. October 13, 1940, has come and gone. Hitler, who has a superstition about dates, has allowed this famous day in Britain's history to pass unnoticed."

It may be that what happened on the English Channel 135 to 137 years ago may be lingering in Hitler's mind more persistently than the Battle of Hastings almost 900 years ago. For it was from May, 1803, until well along in 1805 that Napoleon, having built hundreds of flat-bottomed boats, tried in vain to invade England from Boulogne.

History records that, failing to invade Britain, Napoleon "suddenly changed front in 1805 and led his armies through Hanover and the smaller German States." Would Hitler recognize any parallel between Napoleon's strategy at this point and his own shift of activity to the Balkans?

A long time elapsed between the failure at Boulogne and the disaster at Waterloo. But a pattern has been set. Without a conquest of England Napoleon's victories on the Continent fell flat. If he couldn't invade and defeat Britain, the Little Corporal couldn't be master of the world. Does that precedent worry Hitler?—Philadelphia Inquire.

Kentucky farmer claims he has discovered gold. Perhaps Fort Knox has merely sprung a leak.

According to a dispatch from Berlin a lot of German soldiers are "burning" to get over to England. And a lot of them will have the heat turned on them if and when they arrive.

Usually when the bases are filled and it looks like the game is going by the boards, the pitcher and catcher meet in the middle of the diamond and hold a conference. Maybe that was what Hitler and Mussolini were doing at the Brenner Pass.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN CHILD FLUNKS IN MATH

There is many a child at school who does well, or shines, in every other subject, but is dull or fails, in arithmetic, spelling or reading. If it is arithmetic his teachers may tell the parent that the child just "doesn't have a mind for arithmetic." The parent may be ready to accept this as a fact, even recalling an aunt or uncle "like that."

It is a comforting doctrine both to the parent and teacher. Their skirts are cleared. They need worry no more that they have failed to teach the child well. All the burdens of their heart have rolled away onto the shoulders of Grandma Nature. Even the child may feel better, confident that he will not be nagged so much henceforth about arithmetic.

It is possible, of course, that with all such worry removed, this child might stumble on ways of discovering that he was born with a more mathematical mind than they supposed. He might actually take a spurt in arithmetic. But the chances are against this happening. More likely than not, the child will be so sure he can't learn arithmetic that he won't try to and will grow worse and worse in the subject.

Child Capable Of Learning

In the light of studies carefully made in this field, there is no conclusive scientific evidence that any child, barring auditory and visual defects, who is average or above in any one as most school subjects cannot succeed about as well in any other subject. The child who, for example, can read and spell well can also learn to do well in arithmetic.

Right away, of course, he might not be able to do so well. Indeed it might be a number of years before he acquires even average achievement in this subject. You see he has had a number of months and years of low grades or failures in thus subject, and over all this time there have grown up unfavorable emotions over the subject. He also may have missed certain basic items one or several years earlier. Then he may have been nagged at so long and reminded so often of his failure, that he doubts whether he ever can be successful in it.

Help Child Succeed

Don't tell this child he should, as a matter of duty, master such a subject and that it is his own fault he hasn't. Merely tell him that he can and that you're going to find ways to prove to him that he can. The responsibility is on you and the teacher to find these ways and prove to the child you are right.

The principal to guide you is this: Set the stage so the child will succeed. You may have to induce him if in the fifth grade in reading say, to read from materials no harder than primer or first grade. Be sure you help him save his face. As he enjoys success he will grow more interested and try harder so as to win more success and in turn charge and recharge his dynamo of interest and effort.

By writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope, with a three cent stamp, you may receive a list of books for reading to the baby and your child. Also you may have a copy of the hundred simple additional facts and the hundred simple subtraction facts which every child should learn by heart before he enters high school or even reaches the third or fourth grade.

Solving Parent Problem

Q. How can you get the father to the table on time?

A. In our family we had it understood that neither of us parents would hold the children to any family rules we would not hold ourselves to. Children expect us to be on the square with them.

Doctors advise people to keep their feet on the floor during moments of nervous tension. This would be most excellent advice to pass on to the fellow in back of us, whose team is on the one-yard line and one point behind.

IT WAS AND IT WASN'T

A man was remarkable for the bad wines he kept. He was entertaining some rather important guests one evening, when he turned to his new Butler and said:

"Higgs, is this the best claret?"

'N'o sir," said Higgs solemnly, "It is not, but it's the best you've got."

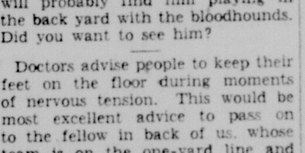

Out of every dollar earned in America, taxes, either direct or hidden take 27 cents. In 1910, taxes only took five cents out of every dollar. Just think what is ahead of us in 30 more years.

Dallas, Texas, girls have started a new movement in favor of their boy friends, demanding the; be made captains or nothing. The first thing army chiefs know, they are going to have to re-designate common ordinary buck privates as captains, and change the name of captain to something else, or demote young Mr. Roosevelt to a second louey.

NOT LOST TIME

"It's fierce to be laid up like this, doctor," said Alice after the automobile accident. "Here I can't do any war work for the Red Cross or anything else."

"Oh, yes, my child," said the doctor as he cautiously reached for his hat, "don't forget that your bones are knitting."

REASONABLE

A Boston street car has the front sign reading "Dorchester," and the side signs, "Ashmont and Milton."

"Does this car go to Dorchester?"

"Yes, lady; get right on."

"Are you sure it does."

"Yes, lady; get right on."

But it says 'Ashmont and Milton.' on the side."

"We aren't going sideways, lady. Get right on."

There must have been a lot of politicians in David's time. He said all men were liars.

A New Hampshire farmer is still looking for a wife after turning down 5,000 wife-wanted ad replies. Among some of his requirements is for a prospect to send a sample of the bread she makes. Personally, we think that baby is looking for an angel, with too little to offer in exchange. All he has is a 180-acre farm and a house with 11 rooms.

And then there are patriots who are heartily in favor of preparedness provided young men and rich ones carry all the load.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

"Do you really think that chivalry is dead? asks one of my correspondents. "Almost every time boy meets girl in the movies, nowadays, he treats her rougher and rougher until the process makes her love him. I am wondering whether the scenario writers who harp on this false motif have ever known really fine women."

Answer: I, too, have become bored by the constant repetition of this false motif. It has corrupted our youth to the extent that the boys toot their horns for the girls to run out of their houses and climb into their cars, unassisted; let them go to and from parties alone; neglect them on the dance floor when they are their partners; talk to them roughly; fail to rise when they join them at table; treat them generally as serving women rather than equals. It is a far cry from the knights of chivalry—from the chivalry which even our fathers showed our mothers. It is a boorishness that can be eradicated only by the girls themselves. As long as they condone it they must suffer it. Some day they will organize an order of their own—an Order of Ladyhood that will exclude from decent society all boys and men violating such laws of chivalry as their code may exact.

Readers' Questions Answered

Question: I am to receive an engagement ring at Christmas. Since my plans for marriage are indefinite, will it be all right for me to wear my ring on my right hand until at least there is a tentative date set?—Doubtful.

Answer: Wear your ring on your left hand even though your marriage will not take place for years. If you do not wish to announce your engagement yet, you should not wear your ring. Regardless of your decision your engagement ring, if worn at all should be worn on the third finger of your left hand.

Question: Please tell me what is the obligation of a young woman, who has come as a stranger to a city to work, toward people who have invited her to their homes.—Betty Jane.

Answer: Of course, our friends and acquaintances do not entertain us with the thought of possible reciprocation on our part. However, we should, if possible, return their hospitality. If you have a home where you may entertain, extend your hospitality to those who have invited you to their homes. Have them in to dinner, or at least to spend an evening, during which you may serve refreshments and perhaps play bridge. If you have no home where you may entertain, invite your hostess out to lunch and a matinee.

Tomorrow—Sense of Humor.

AN INFREQUENT SMOKER

Several ladies sat in the clubroom discussing the virtues of their husbands, over their knitting.

Mr. Jones," said one of them referring to her life partner, "never drinks and never swears; indeed; he has no bad habits."

"Does he never smoke?" someone asked.

"Yes, he likes a good cigar just after he has eaten a good meal. But on the average I suppose he doesn't smoke more than once a month."

Some of her club mates smiled, but she didn't seem to understand the reason.

A news dispatch states that no Japanese wants to die until he has climbed the sacred mountain Fuji. If the Japs keep popping off long enough, a lot of them will never achieve their ambition.

FELLOW FEELING

The new recruit passed an officer without saluting.

"Here, my man," called the officer, "do you see this uniform I'm wearing?"

"Yes, sir, but just look at this thing they gave me."

What a world! Only one animal can reason, and he lets partisanship addle him.

There is only one vindication for unorthodox and unauthorized action. It is called success.

Don't try to explain. Your best friends won't understand unless they have been in the same situation.

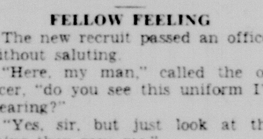

Things don't "just happen." Every shameful thing in America can be traced back to a situation that invited it.

Prospective golfers at Hiram college, Hiram, O., are using buckeyes on the campus lawn, as substitutes for practice balls. That's the first time we ever knew that horse chestnuts were good for anything except those old-fashioned whirl-i-gigs we used to make as boys.

History will explain everything except why Frenchmen surrendered to an enemy and fought bravely against their friend.

Hitler's effort to terrify Englishmen is silly. Slaves cry for mercy; free men endure and grimly sharpen their knives.

If nature was smart enough to foresee our needs, why are man's knee joints hung so he can't kick himself?

"Why talk about England so much?" asks a reader. Why not? That is where the whole future of the world is being decided.

Maybe freedom deserves to die. Free lands seem the only ones where men help the enemy by fighting one another.

The odds are twenty to one that you will not be called in the first year's draft, so all you boys who have never been lucky enough to win anything in your life should take encouragement. You may be that lucky one.

Selective service doesn't mean forcing men to serve against their will. It merely selects the fittest where all presumably have volunteered.

What's What At A Glance

New Comptroller Not Anxious To Start
Job Is One Which Displeases Too Many
His Authority Can't Be Appealed From

(Central Press Columnist)

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Representative Lindsay C. Warren of North Carolina hasn't seemed particularly eager to begin work as comptroller general of the United States, to which post President Roosevelt appointed him some while ago, although it's a well paid-berth, with a long term attached to it.

Yet it's no wonder Lindsay has hated to plunge into his new duties. Uncle Sam hasn't another job to offer whose incumbent is invested with so many opportunities to get himself disliked as the comptroller has.

The post dates from shortly after the last World War. At that time congress wasn't accustomed to government spending at our present rate. However, the war certainly had hiked the figure considerably above any thing that previously had been known, and the lawmakers evolved the notion that our executive branch was wasting money.

Accordingly, they created a general accounting office, with a comptroller general at the head of it.

Among other items it was made an essential part of this functionary's business to pass upon the legality of all financial claims made against the treasury department. It was fully expected that he'd turn a great many of them down, leaving the claimants holding the sack—with nothing in it. His authority, it was provided, was to cover everything, from demands for millions or billions of dollars down to individuals' little pewee expense accounts.

Oh! What Unpopularity!

Congress foresaw that, as soon as he began acting under such a mandate, he was bound to make himself tremendously unpopular among a vast number of disappointed would-be bill collectors.

So it took steps to make him absolutely invulnerable. Initially, he was to be presidentially appointed but after that he wasn't to be answerable, in the slightest degree, to the White House. The president wasn't to be permitted to remove him. Congress wasn't to be permitted to remove him, either, except by formal impeachment proceedings, which anybody but an outright crook would be practically proof against. He was to serve for 15 years—long enough to make the position worth having. But at the 15 years' end he wasn't to be reappointable—in order to guarantee that he wouldn't be influenced by any hope of continuance in office.

The set-up having been legislated on the basis aforesaid, J. Raymond McCarl became our first comptroller general.

And did he prove to be hard boiled! He did, and then some.

Fifteen Long Years

Comptroller General McCarl had been secretary to Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska. Considering that background, it may seem as if he'd have been lenient relative to monetary claims from the government's liberally inspired agencies, like the TVA, for instance. Not a bit of it. He rejected 'em by the wastebasketful — liberal and conservative indiscriminately. Gosh! but he made the politicians sore. The worst of it was, he was technically so correct that they couldn't punch any satisfactory holes in his rulings.

Ray McCarl's 15 years slopped over into the New Deal era. It's easy to imagine what Cain he raised with New Deal ideas of federal spending. At last, though ("Thank heaven," said the New Dealers), his decade and a half expired.

Assistant Comptroller General Richard N. Elliot served briefly as acting boss. Then Senator Fred H. Brown of New Hampshire, whose senatorship was just ending, was named for the chief's post. Pretty soon he fell ill and had to retire, before the administration had had time to ascertain how manageable he'd turn out to be—or otherwise.

Thereupon Dick Elliott became "acting" again. A few folk thought he'd be named for the full 15-year period. It was a bad guess. Dick had been educated under the McCarl regime. He clashed with New Deal in brief order. If once the White House had appointed him, to be the whole thing, it couldn't have fired him, but it could refrain from appointing him. It did so. After quite a wait, while considering possibilities, it named Representative Warren.

The North Carolinian was acquiescent, but he stalled for a spell, being needed, it was explained, in the house of representatives. If congress had adjourned promptly enough, he was to have taken on the comptroller generalship Oct. 1. But Congress didn't quit, so he had to stave off the fatal day until Nov. 1.

The fact is, anybody who starts in as comptroller general sets the date of his public life's end at 15 years hence. However, old they may be at the time, politicians are reluctant to do that.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

HISTORY AND WAR

The Battle of Britain has developed into a steady bombing on the City of London, the largest city in the world. This bombing is doing a tremendous damage to great buildings in London. It is possible that such buildings as St. Paul's Cathedral, the Houses of Parliament, Buckingham Palace, the Bank of England and Westminster Abbey may be destroyed, but as Winston Churchill says: "Nothing will daunt the English people."

Referring to Westminster Abbey, the world will easily think of all the historical people.—Englishmen of past generations, whose nation the Germans are attempting ruthlessly to destroy. In the southern end of the south transept of Westminster Abbey is the "Poet's Corner", first called by that name by Oliver Goldsmith, because it contained the tomb of Chaucer. Besides Chaucer's tomb, it includes that of Spenser, Drayton, Ben Jonson, Shakespeare, Milton, Samuel Butler, Cowper, Prior, Gay, Addison, Goldsmith himself, Doctor Johnson, Sheridan, Burns, Southey, Coleridge, Campbell, Macaulay, Dickens, Thackeray, Tennyson and Browning.—names all identified with English history and English tradition.

Is all of this to be swept away by German arrogance?

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1940 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Our friend Mr. Hymie Augen wishes it clearly understood that he has no sympathy or respect for the Brooklyn murder syndicate. He is emphatically opposed to it. He is equally opposed to International Murder, Inc., now extending its operations around the globe, as it introduces a new "world order."

However, Mr. Augen finds that the two organizations have much in common, as well as certain competitive and sharply opposed aspects. He is afraid that, in weighing these various factors, he might give his public the impression that he was taking sides, one way or another. He just wants to get this straight. So now, Mr. Augen may take over, without fear of being misunderstood:

"Hitler must be sore as a pup now if he reads the newspapers. Here is a piece that says it costs him $150,000 to kill a man and here in the same paper is a lot of these Brooklyn lugs charging only $5 or $10. If he snatches this country, he will rub out first this Brooklyn competition. No guy running a big killing business can stand for marking a $5 murder up to $15 and doing it for $10, like they are in Brooklyn. This country won't be safe for little cut-rate murder firms if Hitler gets it. Then, again, these Nazis must feel like a lot of punks having to dig so far down in the kick for every little killing job.

"The Brooklyn mob must be sore, too. They must figure that on a price scale like Hitler's they would get fat as a seal and why do they stay in this small retail business, etc. That's a funny thing the way everything gets more expensive when they find out how to do it better. The more machinery we get the more it costs for a flop or some good scoffing or a suit of clothes or a ticket to a show. Maybe the trouble is the tools are too expensive.

"I saw a piece in the paper about how making killing tools was the biggest and best business in the world. A big airplane that can carry a big load of bombs, for instance, ought to cut down killing costs but it just makes the work more expensive. One time, if you have forgot, I put in a piece about old Moe Braunschweiger that has a second-hand book store, and is a nice old guy with long white whiskers and how he wolfs his own books.

"Old Moe has a lot of savvy about such things, as I was just saying, and he told me once that little business was smarter than big business and would last longer because it didn't have to put so much dough on the line, and it could lose six or eight passes and start all over again, and at the same time when the big bimbo is bumped out he's out.

Just Folks

What the good life means is this:
When a century long has flown
Dearly cherished still it is
And memorialized in stone.

Though a hundred years away
Men remember labors good
And how difficult are they
And how oft misunderstood.

These all other things outlive:
High devotion to the truth,
Pity's willingness to give;
Wise instruction for the youth.

By the votive stone we raise
On the ground which once he knew,
'Tis the good life that we praise
And the good one man can do.

Bible Thought For Today

Let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another.—Eph. 6:4.

Sees War Probable If Roosevelt Wins

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, Former N. R. A. Administration Head Gives Views

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Oct. 16—General Hugh S. Johnson, former NRA administrator, asserted Tuesday in an interview with the Detroit Times that the re-election of President Roosevelt would probably involve the United States in war for which it is unprepared.

He also contended that selection of Clarence Dykstra, president of the University of Wisconsin, to head the selective service, was a "blunder."

Pounding the desk in his hotel room, Johnson declared:

"As sure as God made little apples we'll be in this war if Roosevelt wins a third term. And this nation is not ready for war and won't be for a long time."

Johnson, who was one of the administrators of the draft act during the World War, charged that Dykstra "doesn't know anything about the draft act" and asserted the university president was one of the men who wanted to end the dies committee.

The Human Side Of The News

ence seems to be in the tools. The Brooklyn punk can just roll a drunk, get a five-case note, drop in at a fence and pick up a gat and he's in. The Nazis started that way when they began to get up little mobs to beat people up, but they had to put more into the plant and if it was working the way they figured it ought to they wouldn't be any other people left in the world and they would just have to shoot themselves to keep the plant up to capacity.

"Sometimes I'm glad I never went to school much. Down at Ed Riley's cigar store in Allen Street they got one of those radios that gets the Nazis straight from Germany and I drop in about 9:30 at night and hear the Nazis talking like an English duke that had gone to school all his life. They slick their killing up in nice book language and maybe if I had been reading a lot of books I would fall for it. But I was kibitzing around the water front and running a Stuss game and getting around a lot, so maybe I would be around when they was trouble, so I got to know a killer when I heard or saw one. I'm telling you, and you can make a book on it, the only difference between the Nazi and Brooklyn mobs is the price scale.

Complete Plans For Wiener Roast To Be Held Thursday At High School Camp

St. Andrew's Choir Guild held their regular meeting in the guild hall Monday night with Mrs. Mayne Ott, president, in charge. Miss June A. Evans was appointed secretary pro tem.

Various reports were made of the social activities of the choir, and plans were completed for a wiener roast to be held at the high school camp as guests of Donald Dinsmore next Thursday evening. The committee in charge includes Mrs. Mayne Ott, Mrs. Ada Riley, Mrs. Ethel Evans and Chester J. Hetrick. Those going will meet at the guild hall, Belmont street, at 6:30 p. m.

Plans were also discussed for the production of a musical play later in the season.

The pastor, Rev. C. J. Burton, announced that the choir would assist in the service at the Almira Home on Friday, October 25, at 3 p. m. Also, that they had been invited to take charge of the music at St. Luke's church, Ellwood City, on Sunday, November 3.

News Briefs From City Hall

J. E. Carr received a permit from the City Bureau of building to build a one story frame garage at an estimated cost of $100, at 923 Dewey avenue.

Chief of police Willis G. McMullen today made a move to increase the efficiency of the parking system here. He has assigned a policeman to do nothing else but inspect meters. He will patrol the meters, no difference where they are located. Patrolmen assigned regularly to such patrols also must inspect the meters, hence an increase in parking meter collections may be expected.

There were only six cases of contagion reported last month to the city health bureau according to a report made today. Four patients had whooping cough. The other two had measles.

Dr. W. L. Steen, city health officer, inspected during September 21 samples of water from the New Castle Water company and seven samples from privately-owned wells. Water from bathing pools and samples of milk sold here also were examined. No adverse report was made by the health officer.

Damage to a vacant house at 624 Superior street was made known to police today.

Two weeks remain in which to make 20 percent payment on delinquent city taxes under the Abatement acts which provide that all delinquent city taxes up to 1939 could be paid over a period of five years at the rate of 20 percent, payment to be made on or before October 31 of each year during the five year period. The 20 percent payment due this year must therefore be paid before October 31; otherwise penalty and interest will be added to the defaulted payment.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

"Should I have my child's tonsils or adenoids removed?"

They act as protective barriers, enmeshing and destroying germs.

That is their function, at any rate.

Some tonsils and adenoids become diseased within themselves.

They then become a source of poisoning to the body.

When this occurs, they should be removed.

The tonsils lie in the throat, one on each side.

Adenoids are higher up in the throat, just back of the nose.

Symptoms of enlarged tonsils and adenoids are closely related.

The earliest symptom of obstruction is breathing through the nose.

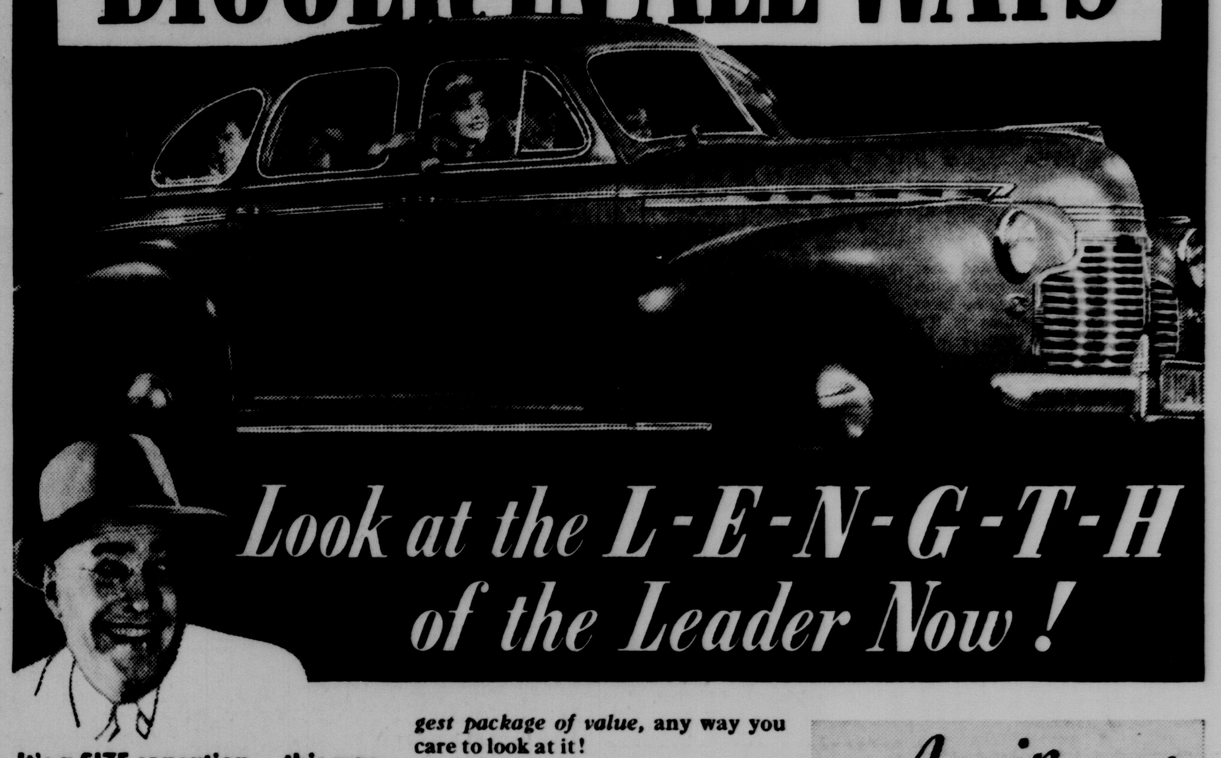

Frequent colds and sore throats are other symptoms.

The doctor can advise when tonsils should be removed.

The court rooms of the Lawrence County court house will not be used for political meetings on Sunday. This action was taken by the county commissioners on Tuesday following the request for the use of a court room on Sunday, for political purposes.

"The facilities of the court house are open to the people," said the commissioners, "but we believe political meetings should be held on other days than Sunday."

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

CHORES FOR CHILDREN

I don't think too much stress can be laid on the necessity of cultivating the habit of work in the growing child. No person becomes a worker naturally. The child who grows up without any training in this respect is unfortunate, and its parents and elders have neglected a prime duty.

Although we have supposed that the Dionne Quintuplets were going to grow up to be wealthy, we have not neglected their training in the work habit. No child, regardless of circumstances, should be brought up as a drone.

For example, making their own beds is one of the chores they have been taught to do willingly and cheerfully.

At six and a half, the Quins' age, sweeping, dusting and dish-drying are easy enough. Bed-making is more strenuous, requiring more strength and stature than normal children of their age possess, and we would not ordinarily have assigned this chore to them. However, the children themselves started doing the job. And neatly, too. We insist that all their work be thorough. No half-hearted efforts are counted. That, by the way, is obviously very important in child-training: Seeing that the child completes every job to the best of its ability.

I think it was Yvonne who made the first try at bed-making. One day the nurse went through the bedroom to find that young girl busily trying to make up her bed, and praised her. When the other four children heard this, they were encouraged to try a hand at it, too.

Cecile caught on to it the quickest. After a few attempts, she did a pretty creditable job. Emilie seemed to think bedmaking should be a race; that the first Quin finished was the best. Consequently, her bed when she was throug with her first effort, looked even worse than it had when she started. The nurses saw to it that she did the work over again, and properly. Not daunted, she was as willing as the others to make beds again the next morning and to do the work down to the strictest detail.

Each child has a heavy blanket in her own color and with her own name embroidered on it. These are folded on top of the bed in such a way that each name is quite visible. Learning to fold the blankets so the name would come out on the right place was quite a job, and the youngsters worked at it a long, long time before they mastered it.

In one of her early tries, Marie got it folded so the name showed, but she had the blanket inside out and so the name was backwards. This tickled the children. Of course, Emilie had to say something about this. She remarked:

"Marie must have made her bed standing on her head. She's upside down."

By the way, we always exercised great care with our bedclothes and mattresses. We try to see that they are kept clean and sterile. Mattresses, in particular, after they have been used for some time, can harbor a great many disease germs, especially if there has been sickness about the place. Now is a good time to have your children's mattress and bed clothes cleaned and sterilized for winter.

Report Yugoslavia Increases Danube River Guards

Keep Close Watch On Nazi Troops

Deny Reports That Soviet Forces Have Entered Northern Rumania

GERMAN PLANES PATROL OIL FIELDS

(International News Service)

BUCHAREST, Oct. 16.—Although they denied British reports that Soviet forces had entered northern Rumania, Bucharest authorities said today they had heard rumors that Yugoslavia is increasing its Danube river guards.

According to these advices, it was stated, the Yugoslavian reinforcements were keeping a close watch on German troops and war materials being shipped down the Danube into Rumania.

With large numbers of German forces now established in Rumania, Nazi warplanes were extremely active in the Ploesti oil fields region, constantly patrolling that area with the announced object of preventing sabotage or enemy air raids.

The German command in the Ploesti region also decided to send all Jews away from the immediate vicinity of the oil fields. An official announcement said evacuation of the Jewish residents will begin shortly.

Italian naval experts were expected to arrive shortly at Constanza, Rumanian Black sea port. Earlier reports stated that a German naval mission would reach Constanza soon and start work on enlargement of the naval base there.

The last contingent of British residents of Bucharest departed last night for Constanza to board a vessel for Istanbul. All not members of the British legation staff have left the city.

Senator Holt Registers But Blasts At Draft

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16—Sen. Hold (D) W. V. bitter foe of conscription, registered today together with the other 16,500,000 eligible men of the nation, but issued another attack against the draft which he said was "for war."

"To call this 'a draft for peace' is not only to state an untruth but to be hypocritical" Holt asserted after registering. "This draft is not only unnecessary but an attack on fundamental Americanism. It is a draft for war."

Holt added that "if the president's program is continued we will get into the war."

"I have no feeling against registering, but I don't expect to be a captain if inducted," Holt commented as news photographers took his picture holding his registration card in one hand and a copy of the book "And So To War" in the other.

WORST HAY FEVER SEASON

(International News Service)

CHICAGO—The middle west, the nation's great hay fever belt, was warned today that the forthcoming sniffle and sneeze season will be one of the worst in years. The warning was sounded by O. C. Durham of Chicago, botanist and authority on pollen and other air-borne allergens. "The wet weather this spring has stimulated the growth of ragweed," Durham said.

The expense of tobacco in the United States is said to be greater than the cost of government.

Young America Organizes for Mercy

MORE THAN 60,000 Christmas boxes this year will be shipped to children of foreign countries by the American Junior Red Cross. Above, two young volunteers put finishing touches on gifts destined for refugee children in the European war zones. Juniors also have raised $200,000 and have produced approximately 50,000 articles of clothing for evacuee children. The Junior Red Cross has 8,500,000 school-aged members.

America's largest youth organization is having its busiest year since the first World War.

More than 8,500,000 members of the American Junior Red Cross have joined with the adult membership of the Red Cross to do their part in alleviating the sufferings of war. From the ranks of children they have raised more than $200,000 to aid homeless youngsters in the belligerent nations. They have volunteer production groups and have made more than 50,000 articles of winter clothing for evacute children.

The Lawrence County Chapter's Junior Red Cross has an enrollment of 13,000 which is being increased by a larger enrollment this year. Dr. John A. Meehan, chairman of Red Cross and Miss Margaret J. Robinson, secretary of the Junior work are enrolling more county schools and a larger city enrollment. Activities in health program are being carried out by Mrs. Boyd Barrett, chairman of the Ellwood City Juniors assisted by the teachers in each school.

The Juniors are filling over one hundred Christmas boxes for refugee children in Europe. These boxes contain such articles as marbles, crayons, toothbrushes, soap, wash clothes, anything but toy pistols or soldiers. These boxes are to be shipped October 25 so as to be in the hands of the American representative in Europe in time for the holiday.

The older Juniors are gathering piecs of yarn and are busily engaged knitting squares for afghans. Anyone having old knitted garments that can be unraveled and the yarn used will be helping the Juniors by calling the Chapter 5084 and it will be gathered by Mrs. John McIlwaith's Motor Corps members.

The Lawrence County Juniors have been active since the entrance of Finland and Poland into the conflict. It will be recalled by many the Junior Pageant given for Polish and Finnish Relief in February. The proceeds from this pageant amounting to $1676.77 supplied the Volunteers under the leadership of Mrs. John E. Elliott, Mrs. James Rhodes, Mrs. J. C. Wagert and Mrs. Robert Garland with the materials to carry on a most active program.

The Juniors throughout the county are covering books in Braille for children in blind institutions. To make Christmas day happier for the men on the United States Ship—Gannett, the Juniors are making menu covers, gayly colored so as to bring some holiday spirit to the enlisted men. Wooden toys were made by the Ben Franklin Juniors and sent to children in institutions. Letters of appreciation tell of the joy these gifts are giving.

The Juniors are also assisting Norman E. Clark, chairman of Roll Call in many ways.

CHEST WORKERS GATHER FOR FIRST REPORTS AT NOON

Dingledy, optimistic over the campaign outcome, told the workers their next report session will probably be at noon on Tuesday, October 22. He will designate definite date and place in The News, later this week.

The drive chieftain praised the divisions for the financial showings so far and urged the workers to "cover all the cards." That coverage, he told them, holds the key to the success of every such campaign.

The noon rally was brief. It took only enough time for the campaigners to dine and listen to a few brief speeches—including Dr. Bennett's.

WPA Man Impressed

As the solicitations advanced in the field and as more red Chest feathers began to appear in homes and stores and on the hats of men and women, Chairman Dingledy received reports of several small gifts which seemed typical of the citizen's attitude toward the Chest.

One man, a Works Projects Administration workman brought a dollar to the downtown Chest office (on the public square) after attending the opening Sunday rally of the campaign.

He told Mrs. Winifred Cooney, executive secretary, that he could hardly afford to give even one dollar, but he knows now that others are far worse off than he is.

"One dollar won't go far," he said "but it lets you know my heart is right."

He said it was the Sunday portrayals of Chest activities that impressed him.

The $60,500 sought in the drive will greatly aid in financing the operations of the nine agencies through 1941.

Rowland Will Dismantle State Exhibit At Fair

Authorized To Have Pennsylvania Building At New York Fair Razed

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 16.—The state world's fair commission today authorized Secretary of Property and Supplies Roger W. Rowland to dismantle the Pennsylvania exhibit after the fair closes on October 27 and sell unserviceable state property in the building.

The commission will meet again in January to close its affairs and report to the governor and legislature.

The Pennsylvania exhibit, a replica of Independence Hall, was visited by 4,500,000 persons from the opening of the 1940 fair on May 11 through Sunday, October 13, the buildings' staff reported to the commission. Total attendance at the fair during the five months was 16,000,000 persons, according to the official count of the fair's management.

Twenty-eight per cent of all persons attending the fair visited the Pennsylvania building, which was headquarters this year for 297 "special days," attended by 78,575 persons.

Approximately 619,975 pieces of literature advertising Pennsylvania were distributed and 1180 packages of literature were shipped to virtually every state in the Union.

Trend Toward Willkie Gaining Momentum Says G.O.P. Chairman

By JAMES I. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Republican eastern headquarters bubbled with enthusiasm over the announcement today that Sen. Hiram Johnson of California will come out for Wendell L. Willkie for president in a radio broadcast next Friday night.

Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr., G. O. P. national chairman, declared in a press interview that Senator Johnson's opposition to a third term for Roosevelt not only will put "doubtful California" in the Republican column but will have a tremendous effect in creating Willkie votes in every state in the union.

"Everybody knows that Hiram Johnson is a great statesman, that he has battled for progressive legislation over a period of many years," Martin asserted.

Trend Everywhere

The trend everywhere is toward Willkie and away from Roosevelt, Martin contended. He said "this trend began ten days ago" and added that "the people will be surprised at the magnitude of the Willkie victory in November."

Martin said various political surveys prove that the trend is sharply toward Willkie. He remarked that the latest gallup poll showing that Illinois, Indiana and Michigan have shifted from Roosevelt to Willkie "merely confirms our own personal surveys."

"Our figures," Martin added, "also show that Ohio is in the Republican ranks."

"How about Iowa? somebody asked.

"Our figures give Willkie 54 per cent in Iowa, Roosevelt 46 per cent," replied Martin. "Our survey shows that of those who shifted to Willkie 46 per cent live on farms, 38 per cent in small towns and 16 per in the cities."

Martin flourished a Pittsburgh newspaper carrying a story that, for the first time, Willkie is leading there with 51 per cent, as against 49 per cent for Roosevelt. Martin said the Republicans had classified Pittsburgh as "a debatable city," and added:

"If we carry Pittsburgh, I am confident we will carry Pennsylvania by a substantial vote."

Jewish Feast At Tifereth Synagogue

Feast Of Tabernacle Being Observed At Tifereth Israel For Seven Days Starting Wednesday

Feast of the Tabernacles will be ushered in Wednesday evening at sunset at the Tifereth Israel synagogue, with services commencing at 5:30 o'clock.

The historical significance of this holiday, which is also called Sukkot, is mentioned in the third book of Moses, Liviticus, "in booths shall ye dwell seven days." Thus the Jewish congregation is observing this holiday for seven days, starting Wednesday evening.

The Tifereth Israel synagogue has erected a tabernacle enjoining the synagogue, where each day after services, the congregation will enter for special services.

This holiday is also observing the thanksgiving prayers, using the four species—thus: Ethrog, citrus; Lulab, palm branch; Hadassim, three myrtle twigs; and Araboth, two willow branches. The four species will be used in prayers for seven days.

On Thursday morning services will be held at 8 o'clock, and in the evening at 5:30 o'clock. Friday morning and evening, services will be held at the same time.

BAN LOAFING IN DOOR-WAYS

Complaints Result In Resurrection Of Once Valuable Order

Chief of Police Willis G. McMullen today resurrected a police order which proved valuable years ago not only to businessmen but also prevented women being insulted, and "ogled" by "Door-Way Johnnies" and further prevented entrances to business-houses being clotted with dried tobacco juice by persons apparently too lazy to step to the curb and expectorate into the cartway of the street.

He issued the order today to police, instructing them to prevent loitering in door-ways.

His command followed complaints received that some "Door-way Johnnies" had proved a nuisance Sunday night.

And now that the order has been issued it is probable that those who wish to loiter will do so upon the curb rather than in a door-way.

Six Games On Card

With six games on this week's program, local grid forces are training like a horde of beavers, bent on making a clean sweep.

New Castle High hopes to preserve its undefeated record when the "Canes" trot against Washington High, Friday evening in Washington.

Shenango Township is in fine fettle for its Thursday clash with Mars High, away from home. So far, the East New Castle team has won once, lost once and has fought to two successive draws.

Back on the winning road after dropping two straight decisions, Bessemer High performs at East Brady High, Saturday afternoon. The constantly improving Cementers have snatched two triumphs against a pair of losses for a .500 mark.

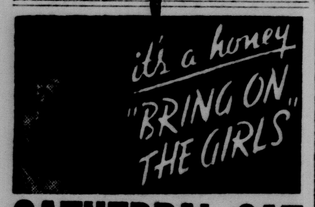

Friday afternoon, Union Township High invades Zelienople.

The Scotland Laners are optimistic regarding the coming battle. Coach John Susko reports his squad in good condition.

Ellwood City High is girding for one of its toughest foes of the campaign, Midland High, Saturday afternoon at Midland.

Westminster's Titans are sharpening up for their homecoming day battle with Bethany College, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Bethany invades the county with one of its strongest combinations in several seasons.

County Tutors Outline Plans For Basketball

During a meeting held in the Y. M. C. A., members of the Lawrence County Coaches' Association outlined plans for the coming basketball season.

Because Wampum High does not have its own court, all Wampum games will be on opponents' floors.

Plans were also made for a dinner meeting to be held soon.

A. G. Capezzuti, Bessemer High coach, presided.

Return Money To Softball Managers

The City Softball association held its final meeting of the 1940 season last night at City hall and closed the books for the year. Rocco P. Viggiano, president of the association, conducted the meeting. All franchise money was returned to the managers of the various teams.

Attending the meeting as officers of the association were Secretary Anthony "Tony" Conn, Treasurer Sid Lockley, and Commissioners Gus Slovonsky and Charles "Bugs" Walther.

Any manager of any of the teams still having a receipt showing that his franchise was paid at the start of the year can get his money back by contacting Mr. Lockley at the City building. Not all of the managers attended the meeting last night.

It was decided to purchase trophy cups for the four champions—National Rads, Class A title holders; Arena Girls, champs of the girls' league; Columbus club, champs of the Class B league, and the Golden Pheasants, champs of the Class C league.

PAT COMISKEY WINS

Pat Comiskey, 203½, Paterson, N. J., outpointed Henry Cooper, 194½ New York, in 10 rounds last night in New York.

There isn't a first-class flyweight fighter in this country. The champion is Little Dado of the Philippines. Title contenders are Jackie Patterson of England, Ltitle Pancho of the Philippines and Enrico Urbanati of Italy.

Band Will Not Make Trip To Washington, Pa.

New Castle High Preparing For Tough Battle On Friday Night At Washington

The New Castle High grid team is hard at work this week getting ready for the seventh game of the year Friday night at Washington, Pa., where they battle the "Little Presidents" of Washington High at the stadium located just outside of Washington city limits.

New Castle faces a tough assignment Friday night with a lineup that is somewhat crippled up—Freddy McKee, Roberts, Morgan and Adamo are on the hospital list and none of these boys are sure starters in the coming Friday night battle.

The New Castle High band will not make the Washington trip, it was announced. The band will make the Johnstown trip, however, it was announced.

SHORT SPORTS

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Jim Welsh, Michigan's great free-style swimmer who was forced to drop out of school last winter when stricken with pneumonia, returned to classes this fall.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Dick Banger and Whitey Piro, Syracuse senior back and end, room together and operate a mutually owned car. They are inseparable.

Frank Dobson, formerly football coach at Maryland and Richmond, its football coach and athletic director at the Newport News Apprentice school in Virginia.

Harry Jeffra, featherweight; Lew Jenkins, lightweight, and Ken Overlin, middleweight, are champions in New York and Pennsylvania, but are not recognized by the N. B. A.

Michigan football teams since 1879 have scored four times as many points as their opponents—9985 to 2524.

Dayton, O.—Rev. Herman R. Oage, an Episcopal rector, coaches the kickers at University of Dayton, a Catholic school.

John Gubanich, Notre Dame's 160-pound star guard, was rejected by three eastern schools because he was too small.

Utah at last has gone in for night football. The first game in its history was played last month.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Notes from here and there:— Princeton High plans extending its sports program a bit. The school off the New Castle-Butler road will seek admittance to the W. P. I. A. L. when '41 rolls around. Princeton desires to join the league primarily for basketball. Lack of material makes it almost impossible for Princeton to add football to its sports curriculum.

In the Militia Baseball League, which operates in Washington, D. C., Carl Blazin, of Ellport romped off the diamond with the most valuable player award. Guarding the first base post for the Army Medicos, the local athlete was spectacular throughout the summer. A former Ellwood City High student, Blazin enlisted in the army ambulance corps two years ago. He is 22 and the son of Mrs. Samuel Blazin.

Telephone wires sizzled yesterday. A few Union Township High followers called to give the complete returns on the Bessemer-Union grid series since 1928. In 1928, Union emerged with a 7-0 victory. In 1931, Union again defeated the Cement City edition, 14-6. In 1935 the class B rivals played a 0-0 deadlock. The missing dates, nine of them, represent Bessemer triumphs.

Wonder how many more seasons will go by the wayside before Lawrence county produces an athlete capable of matching Archie Shoup's point after touchdown performance? The ex-Bessemer High whirlwind, currently at Youngstown college, failed to annex the extra tally but twice during his scholastic career. He tried 21 times. In addition, he booted a surprisingly number of field goals.

Shoup's knack with his foot recalls a mark set up by the versatile Jim Thorpe, back in 1911, during the Harvard-Carlisle game. The Indians, spearheaded by the immortal Thorpe, won 18-15. In that odd clash, Thorpe booted four field goals, setting up a mark that may never be equalled in the history of football.

Tommy Harmon, the Michigan demon who runs like a bunny in a briar patch, is undoubtedly shooting for the high scoring mark established by this same Jim Thorpe, back in 1912. Despite the fact that Thorpe was stopped by Wash & Jeff (game ended 0-0), the flying Indian scored 198 markers, 25 of the tallies coming via the touchdown system. Field goals and points after touchdowns accounted for the remaining 18 points. Harmon has piled up 69 so far.

Let a football team drop a game and the old cry follows—"dissension." Ohio State is the latest ballwick affected with this common disease which comes at the heels of defeat. If dissension exists, why is it always uncovered after a setback? If the difference was prevalent, it undoubtedly arose before the Northwestern tiff. Then, why wasn't it brought up before the game?

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Henry Armstrong who lost his welterweight championship to Fritzie Zivic, Tuesday, underwent an operation for the removal of scar tissue and an inch of skin over his left eye yesterday. Ten stitches were required to close the wound. Armstrong will not be able to fight before 1941.

Pepper Martin, Cardinals outfielder and third baseman, will pilot Sacramento in the Pacific League. . . . Billy Conn, Pittsburgh, will fight Al McCoy, New England heavyweight in Boston, Friday night. November 18, Conn will box Clarence Jones, colored light-heavyweight in Buffalo.

Tom Brand, 28, three times West Virginia amateur golf champion, was critically wounded Monday in a hunting accident near Kingwood, W. Va. He may not recover. . . . Duck season having come in and the small game season due November 1, now is the time to buy your red for safety first reasons.

Mercer County sportsmen invite Lawrence County sportsmen to attend the Buckshot Brigade show beginning at 9 a. m., October 26, on the Western Reserve grounds, one mile west of Clarksville on the Sharon-Greenville road. No charge will be made for parking.

Joe Berry, who, while a freshman at Notre Dame, attracted great attention because of his play at center, now is a Navy plebe.

Hunting Season Opens November 1

State Game Commission Announces Hours And "Bags"

NO LIMIT ON RED SQUIRRELS

Only a short time and hunters will be happy because the 1940 season will have been ushered in at nine a. m. November 1, after which hunting hours will be from seven a. m. to five p. m.

The hunting seasons and limits are:

November 1 to 30—Small game season, male ringneck pheasants, two daily, 12 a season; rabbits, four daily, 20 a season; ruffed grouse, two daily 10 a season; gray, black and fox squirrels, six a day of the combined species, 20 a season; grackles, unlimited.

Hungarian partridges may be killed only in Northumberland, Lycoming or Montour counties with the daily limit fixed at two or six a season.

The commission ordered a closed season on wild turkey in Elk, McKean, Jefferson, Cameron, Clarion, Forest, Potter and Warren counties. The bird may be shot in all other counties with the limit placed at one a season.

A state-wide closed season was ordered for chukar partridges, varying hares (snow shoe rabbits) and sharp-tailed grouse. An unlimited bag limit prevails for red squirrels from November 1 to September 30, 1941.

Bears, November 18

November 1 to December 1—Open season in all counties on raccoons with a daily limit of one or 15 a season by an individual or hunting party.

November 18-21—Season for one-year old bears or older with a season limit of one to a hunter, or two to a party of five or more hunters.

The commission said the following counties were closed for bear hunting: Adams, Bedford, Blair, Cumberland, Franklin, Fulton, Huntingdon, Juniata, Mifflin and Perry.

December 2-14—Deer season, with hunting allowed in all counties for doe and bucks except those with only a visible spike antler or without points.

Trapping regulations allow an unlimited bag of mink from November 1 to January 31, 1941, an unlimited 30-day season on muskrats beginning December 1. Skunks and opossums are unprotected by law until September 30, 1941.

Raccoons may be hunted at night from November 1 to December 31 with a noon-to-noon daily limit of one or 15 a season. Twenty-one counties are closed.

Otters may be trapped only in Lackawanna, Pike, Monroe, Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming counties from November 1 to January 31 with four as a season limit.

The beaver trapping season opens March 1 to March 15, 1941, with the season limit placed at three and 27 counties closed.

State College—Penn State's Nittany lion skin, used to entertain football fans, has been shipped back for alterations. Officials decided it looked "too ferocious".

Philadelphia—The Athletics drew 104,839 baseball fans to their seven night games at Shibe park this season against 65,839 for the Phillies.

Eugene, Ore.—Herschel Patton, center, and Morris Jackson, guard, are the first Texans to play on an Oregon football team.

Grid Chefs Cook Another Luscious Dish For Week-End

Those chefs who prepare the weekly grid menu, have cooked up another luscious dish to be served this coming week-end.

Right in this district Fordham's Rams will ,be out to gore the Pitt Panthers, in Pittsburgh, Saturday. Pitt's surprise showing and possibilities of a upset which would erase Fordham from the list of unbeaten elevens, has added considerable lustre to the attraction.

Carnegie Tech, which annually gives Notre Dame a few headaches, will journey to South Bend. Duquesne University, which barely beat down supposedly weak South Carolina, will have its hands full against Mississippi in Oxford, Saturday. Both teams are undefeated.

Penn State goes to Bethlehem, Saturday, to face Lehigh. The Penn-Princeton fracas, billed for Philly, is one of the toppers of the day. Dartmouth goes to New Haven to tangle with Yale in a game overflowing with tradition. Villanova jaunts to San Antonio to tackle the Baylor Bears.

Holy Cross performs at Yankee Stadium against New York U. Temple and Michigan State go through their grid maneuvers, Friday night. Cornell's next clash, against Syracuse, Saturday, draws lots of attention, due primarily, to the Ithacans' versatility.

In the Big-Nine, formerly known as the Big Ten, Minnesota and Ohio State swap grid blows in Columbus. Illinois' encounter at Michigan draws a berth in the upper bracket. Iowa and Indiana are billed for a tiff in Bloomington. Northwestern invades Wisconsin.

The Tennessee-Alabama scrap tops the southern dish. Texas Christian and Texas A. & M. is another standout clash. Rice shoves off to meet Tulane while Georgia will be entertained by Columbia. Duke bucks up against Colgate at Hamilton. Oregon and Southern California bear watching in the Far West; so do Oregon State against Washington, U. C. L. A. at California, and Stanford at Washington State.

Army-Harvard, Auburn-Southern Methodist, Arkansas-Texas, Kentucky-George Washington, Missouri-Iowa State, Nebraska-Kansas, North Carolina-North Carolina State, Virginia-V. M. I., Wake Forest-Marshall. These, and scores of important games involving standout little teams, complete the course.

Revolver Club Meets Tonight

The Sportsmen Revolver club will meet tonight at the Cathedral range at 7:30 o'clock for a practice shoot, it was announced by Secretary Charles Phipps.

The Sportsmen club recently conducted the pistol shoot at the field trials at the fair grounds, and the shoot was won by W. R. Simon with a 95 string out of a possible 100.

Next Wednesday night the New Castle Revolver club will go to Beaver Falls for a match with the Neville Island Gun club. All members are urged to try and attend the shoot tonight.

EXHAUSTIVE STUDY OF MILKY WAY IS DELAYED BY WAR

(International News Service)

MT HAMILTON, Cal.—Scientists at Lick Observatory are calmly preparing for a 75-year project—an exhaustive study of the entire northern hemisphere of the heavens—and patiently waiting for end of the European war so they can start.

Reason for the delay is that two gigantic lenses for a new $65,000 star camera were contracted for in Europe. One reached America before the war and is being ground in the east. The other is "somewhere in Europe" and cannot be obtained until after the war, if then.

Purpose of the 75-year study will be to determine the rotation of the galatic system, or Milky Way. Nightly exposures will be made with the huge double camera over a period of four years. These will be matched with plates exposed 75 years from now, to determine what motions occur.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLASS AT AIKEN SCHOOL

Registrations for a new photography class which is being started at the W. N. Aiken school are being taken this evening and Thursday evening from 7 to 9:30 o'clock at the school.

All fine points of photography will be taught with Anthony Paglia, well known photographer, as the instructor. This class is being taught as a hobby.

ATHLETIC GATHERING

The Universal Athletic Association will have installation of officers, Thursday evening, in Orr's hall, followed by a dinner which will be at 6 o'clock.

Wilce Carnes, reserve University of Kentucky fullback last year, has signed to play professional football with the Cincinnati, Ohio, Bengals.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

Quite a few got up before breakfast this morning and registered . . . however they found that the time required for the act was not very long . . . and that was pleasing to all . . . a good many school teachers were present to help the election boards . . . it will be necessary for all those of draft age to carry with them at all times the small card that is given them when they register . . . in that way you can identify yourself to police or what have you when and if the occasion arises. So now we wait until the numbers are assigned and then the lottery in Washington.

* * *

It seems to us that a good many people who have government jobs . . . local and national . . . take too much for granted. By that statement we mean that they come and go whenever they please. A good many times when you go into a public office and ask for the head of the department . . . the answer is "He is away and we don't know when he will be back, he usually is here for an hour or so each morning but that is not always certain" . . . Now a good many times it is necessary for a public official or head of a public office to be away . . . but many more times it is not necessary. And too, a good many clerks in these offices think they have the privilege of running around and doing whatever they please . . . just how long such action would be tolerated in private business is hard to say . . . and since every taxpayer is an employer . . . he has the right to say what he pleases. A public office is for the use of each taxpayer . . . and when he is refused information that is entitled him . . . he has the right to complain . . . We elect a man to "serve" his community or nation . . . he should do that in a honest and right way . . . some day he will pay through the nose if he resorts to "Tom foolery".

One day last week a burglar alarm was set off by mistake in a local jewelry store . . . the alarm ran for some three minutes . . . everyone on the street and surrounding streets looked around to see what was going on . . . to date no police officer has contacted the store for which the alarm sounded . . . the proprietor said that he couldn't figure out why the law hadn't been down to find out why the alarm had been sounded.

* * *

For thirty cents you can run a fifteen word ad on this page telling the public that you have something they want . . . or telling the public that they have something that you want. Try the classified ad page . . . it pays.

Stock Market Trend Upward

Some Special Issues Run Up As Much As 5 Points During Morning Trading

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The stock market continued upward today, after absorbing profit-taking shortly after a firm opening. Gains ran to more than a point in leaders, while a few special issues ran up as much as 5.

Crucible Steel issues continued their spectacular performance. The preferred spurted 5 points and the common well over a point in extremely heavy dealings.

Other steels followed the runup in Crucible with Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet & Tube gaining more than a point. U. S. Steel, which opened fractionally higher on a block of 3,000 shares, did nearly as well.

Eastman Kodak stood out with a jump of 3 points. Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse Electric, Cerro De Pasco, Union Pacific, American Locomotive and U. S. Gypsum all gained at least a point.

Rails, utilities, oils mail orders, motors and coppers generally were fractions to a point above last night's closing levels.

Suggests Tag Day Fund To Pay Income Taxes Of Two Democratic Officials

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16.—A Republican attorney of Pittsburgh today "out of kindness" proposed a city-wide tag day to raise $9,060 to pay federal income taxes owed by a couple of well-known Democrats—U. S. Sen. Joseph F. Guffey and Mayor Cornelius D. Scully.

Attorney Joseph I. Winslow today asked city council to authorize the move "in the interest of public welfare." He sent the resolution to City Clerk Edward W. Lindsay. If it is not blocked it will be read in council at the regular meeting Monday.

The resolution would put Safety Director George E. A. Fairley in charge of the tag day and gives him authority to delegate each policeman and fireman to devote one hour's time to the sale of the tags.

Contributors to the income tax fund would be given forget-me-nots to wear. It was estimated that if enough nickels and dimes were contributed to pay off all the taxes it would take approximately 100,000 forget-me-nots.

Records in the federal tax office show that Mayor Scully owes the government $4,895 while Guffey owes $4,165.

Attorney Winslow is a Republican, who claims he is proposing the tag day out of kindness to Guffey, too, since he claims he is "busted" and unable to meet his obligations to the government.

Winslow said he didn't know whether Scully is "broke or not," but that his back income taxes may as well be taken care of at the same time" since his police and firemen will sell the forget-me-nots."

Government agents said that Guffey's back taxes have been outlawed by the statute of limitations. Guffey has publicly declared, however, that he is "broke" and cannot afford to pay the amount.

Mayor Scully said he had "no comment" other than that "the record speaks for itself."

New Nash Cars Shown By Latimer And Whieldon Today

Nash Enters Low-Priced Field With Full-Sized Car This Year

New Nash cars for 1941, which have been heralded in the automobile world as the big news of the 1941 automobile season, made their debut in New Castle today, when the first shipment of new models was placed on display at the showrooms of Latimer and Whieldon, of 402 East Washington street.

The new Nash boasts of aeropowered motors, conditioned air systems for winter driving, soundproofing, and a new "unitized" welded steel body construction, as modern in its field as the principles embodied in the new style light-weight streamlined trains and giant airliners.

Nash's low-priced Ambassador 600, the full-sized car with which this old-line company will invade the low-priced field, is a new sensation in the automobile field.

The new Nashes are powered with twin-ignition, valve-in-head motors, featuring uniform temperature control, a new type radiator, and water pumps at the side of the motor instead of in front. Uniform heat control. Nash engineers assert, means longer engine life. The famous "Weather Eye" system of air-conditioning has also been improved this year.

The new Nashes are roomier, more comfortable, and more beautiful than ever, the seats being almost five feet in width, while the leg room in front and back extends over 42 inches. The new interiors were worked out in collaboration with a woman stylist, and are thoroughly sophisticated, harmonizing in two-tone combinations with single and two-tone body colors.
